

Ian Shreeve

We often find it's easier to describe someone else better than it is to find words for yourself, so I asked some colleagues how they would describe me to you, and this is what they said:

Training style →

His personal style is characterised by passion and enthusiasm and a real desire to help people learn and grow. He is reflective, emotionally intelligent and pragmatic and has a real ability to make the complex very simple Zelda Wilson, Director LE

Ian exudes a natural curiosity backed up by a wealth of knowledge which he can translate in to a training environment with ease and professionalism. He is a kind warm hearted individual who coaches you without knowing you're being coached. One of the pleasures of working with Ian is that he seems to have a solution to everything that the training world can throw out. (Patrick Marr MD, LE)

“ Ian’s facilitation style focuses on the group and makes them work as hard as he does to create learning ”
Becky Craig, B&Q

“ Ian’s passion is infectious ”
Chris Cole, Make It Cheaper

“ Ian is a really nice guy, and he’s very good at what he does ”
Nicola Wickes, Buckinghamshire NHS Trust

Ian has over 20 years of management and development experience working for blue chip organisations in the UK. Last 8 years specifically focussed on training and coaching managers. Last position – responsible for retail management development at B&Q.

PROFESSIONAL CREDENTIALS include:

- MBTI/16PF accredited
- Masters in Personnel Management and Business Admin
- Accredited to use Performance Coaching Inventory
- Accredited to use Individual Effectiveness EQ measure

IAN CLIENT'S include:

B&Q, Morrisons, Red Bull Fi, Hydrogen Go Outdoors, Mars

he seems to have a solution to everything

Client's view →

Ian is a fabulous trainer. The thing that sets him apart from the rest is his quick wittedness and ability to think on his feet.”
James Lawther – Royal Sun Alliance

