

Biography

I'm an experienced executive coach, leadership development professional and skilled facilitator, who strives to enable individuals and teams to be their best selves and achieve their goals.

Throughout my 30+ year career in HR and Leadership Development across global organisations, I've enabled individuals and teams to improve their performance. I've helped people to build their understanding of self and each other, face into their challenges, overcome limiting beliefs and establish behaviours that have shifted performance, improved their sense of belonging and set them up for sustained success. My experience of leadership coaching, coupled with my proven track record in implementing and sustaining impactful people development and talent programmes, now enables me to work with clients across a range of organisational settings and industry sectors, to unlock potential and support leaders to develop inclusive business cultures.

I've been privileged to have some fabulous coaching myself, experiencing first hand the impact this has had on my own professional and personal development and life transitions and am guided by a personal drive to enable more people to experience the benefits great coaching can bring.

Colleague View

"I can honestly say Natalie is the best L&D professional I have come across in many years of my HR career. First, she is a natural innovator - scanning horizons, suggesting and implementing new tools, providing customised creative solutions. Second, she is a real energy generator - Natalie can make things happen, working hard herself, but most importantly, inspiring others to act. Her enthusiasm is infectious, her project management and organisation skills are at the highest level."

Client View

"The impact on my personal and professional life has been phenomenal, and we've only just begun. Not only have our sessions refocused me, regained my passions and goals but they've also been responsible for me regaining confidence in myself and lifted me out of a place that I wasn't happy in being."
