

A bit about me...

Working with Senior Leaders to bring them together as a team is a real privilege as a Team Coach. I work with Board teams trying to understand their team dynamic and focus on what will make them high performing. I love to see a team truly engage with each other, their teams and then the organisation beyond. I believe in true partnership so if it matters to the Leader, it matters to me, which means there is often a lot of 1:1 coaching while also focusing the team to achieve the outcomes. Sometimes this can be challenging as our role is to help teams and individuals see what they need, not always what they want! As well as being a Team Coach, I also work with businesses who think Leading Edge might be able to help. I spend time getting to know the client, building a relationship so we can fully understand the challenge and then look for solutions where we can support them through partnership. Helping Leaders truly understand what they need in their organisation is a real passion of mine. Before my Leading Edge life (seems quite some time ago now!) I headed up the L&D team of a construction firm, supported 20 retail stores in the South East with their development needs, was a Development Consultant for a business travel company and originally started in banking... quite a varied history! I'm also very passionate about giving something back and am studying for a counselling for children qualification to support our next generation with their emotional wellbeing.
